Gloves-Synthetic

- SensiCare with Aloe Vera is a powder-free, latex-free glove that contains pure, freeze-dried aloe vera.
- Healthcare providers must constantly wash their hands and wear gloves as an infection control measure.
- Repeated glove use and exposure to harsh chemicals can lead to contact dermatitis.
- Medline's SensiCare surgical gloves are made from Isolex, a proprietary synthetic polyisoprene. This material has a molecular structure virtually identical to natural rubber latex but without the harmful latex proteins.
- As a result, SensiCare surgical gloves are softer, more elastic, and more comfortable than latex to satisfy clinical needs and support safety initiatives.
